All going to the dogs

Event manager Rebecca Brosnahan won a Treble Cone season pass on Friday in a raffle held to raise funds for the Aspiring Avalanche Dogs. She was given her ticket by her sister. When organiser Matt Gunn phoned Rececca on a public speaker phone, "she was so stoked her excitement infected everyone there and the crowd broke out in smiles, laughter and even the odd tear."

Matt said funds raised will go towards day passes for volunteer dog baiters and a new container.
